

I am asking that the FCC oppose bill HR 4026. The National Association of Broadcasters has no right to dictate what I should be able to listen to on my own radio. Furthermore, I think it is ridiculous for the NAB to make the argument that the corporate entities it represent are trying to protect their interest in the local market. Most radio markets are saturated with stations that are controlled by large national or multi-national corporations that have no real local presence at all. So, I ask that you please protect my rights and the rights other consumers like me from further corporate encroachment. Tell the NAB to earn its market share by providing some real entertainment and informational value to its listeners. Every XM and Sirius subscriber knows the NAB constituency traded away those things long ago in exchange for the advertising dollar.
